PROMOTION DETAILS

The property developer guarantees our clients a net income. The project will be built on a plot designated for tourism, so each property will have a permanent tourist licence for holiday rentals once construction is complete. Owner's personal use The customer has 4 months per year for personal use, which they can spread out over the year as they wish. In the months of high demand (July and August), the owner can use the house for a maximum of two weeks. Professional rental management For the remaining 8 months of the year, the developer has signed a contract with a specialist for holiday rentals on the Costa Blanca and Costa Cálida. They will take care of maximising the profitability of your property without you having to worry about anything. You are responsible for: Managing your property to achieve the highest profitability Sending monthly reports and income declarations Providing transparency through a dedicated app Cleaning, laundry, maintenance and inspections after each rental Profitability study YOU have created a profitability study that shows real figures from other properties in the same area and the expected gross annual income for each property. Income guarantee With this campaign, the property developer guarantees €25,000 net per year before tax during the first three years. How does this guarantee work? If the customer does not reach €25,000 net (after costs and before tax) after 12 months of letting activity, THE BUILDER pays the difference to reach this amount. Example: If the property generates €24,000 net in the first year, THE BUILDER pays an additional €1,000 to reach the guaranteed minimum amount. Other location advantages No competition in the area due to lack of hotels Exclusive location just 1 minute from the Mediterranean High potential for property appreciation (capital gain)
